>> PACE invites you to join the 1st BarCamp on EU Project Management in Florence, November 14-15 2014.

The BarCamp is open to all those EU Project Managers who like to share experiences and ideas through an open and informal approach

>> What to expect?

Friday 14 November 4pm - 10pm:

- Welcome of participants
- Collection and clustering of topics to be presented and discussed
- Social Evening Event

Saturday 15 November 10am - 4pm:

- News and experiences in European Project Management - presentations and open discussions

>> Why participate?

- Share experiences and best practices to manage EU funded projects with colleagues from all over Europe
- Learn from other experts in European Project Management in an open and informal environment
- Meet new potential partners, to disseminate your project ideas and results
- Connect yourself with people and institutions involved in European Project Management

>> How to register?

To register simply click here. Registration is open until 26 September 2014.

Participants (max. 40) will be selected according to the following criteria:

- Experience in EU projects
- Country of origin, in order to ensure a balanced geographical coverage
- Type of institution represented, in order to represent the different bodies interested in EU funded projects
- Contents of the proposed presentation, in order to ensure an effective variety of topics addressed

>> How much does it cost?

Your participation is free of charge. Hotel and meal costs will be covered by the organisers. You simply have to cover your travel costs and invest some time in your active contribution at the BarCamp.

>> What is a BarCamp?

A BarCamp is a "Un-conference" born from the desire for people to share and learn from each other in an open environment. It is an open and self-organized event with discussions, demos and interaction from attendees.
