
>> PACE - Project Actors Community in Europe

The EU project PACE (Project Actors Community in Europe), coordinated by die Berater[®], has just entered its second project year.

During the first project year, PACE has worked to promote a wider knowledge and use of a range of tools, training materials, resources and other guidance publications which have been developed and produced by various LLP projects in the past. By collecting them in a new and unique platform, PACE aims to make them easier to locate and valorise.

The PACE project group

In PACE a Community of Practice of European project actors aims at supporting each other by collecting, sharing and further improving existing tools for transnational project management. On the interactive communication and learning platform, members of the community are able to share experiences in the main topic areas of European project management. About 140 project managers have joined the platform so far.

If you are not a member of PACE yet, click here to join the free PACE platform, share your experiences and learn more about EU-project management.

>> The PACE Platform: new structure of the learning content

The interactive PACE platform gives users access to many support tools through multimedia, Social Media and mobile learning.

A total of 21 learning objects were collected during the first year of the project. During the second project year, more videos, templates and worksheets will be added to the platform to bring value to the content and make it more interesting for users. The PACE platform is constantly being improved to make it user-friendlier. Register on the platform, click on the "LEARN" button and you will find a clear overview of the PACE learning tools.

You can find a video about how to use the platform on our website or just click here to watch our guided tour.

>> The first PACE BarCamp

The 1st Bar Camp on European Project Management was held in Florence, 14-15 November 2014. The Bar Camp engaged the participation of 39 European Project Managers coming from different countries and fields, interested in sharing their experiences and ideas in a totally innovative and interactive activity face-to-face.

BarCamp session in Florence

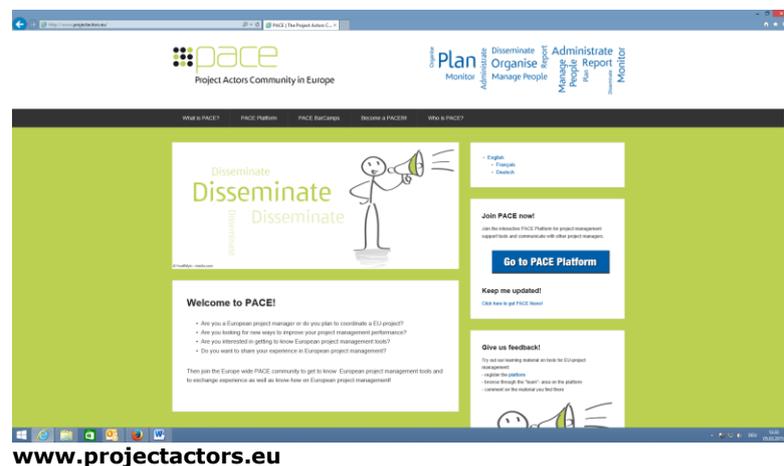

The Bar Camp was an ideal format to share discussions and stimulate interaction between attendees. Participants enjoyed the open atmosphere and the exchange with colleagues from all over Europe.

If you are curious about it, take note: the next Bar Camp will take place in Florence on 8-9 October 2015! If you want to know more, join the PACE platform or visit our website in order to receive more information about the event.

>> PACE webinars and online discussions

In addition to the development of the interactive platform and face-to-face events, the PACE project partners organise regular webinars and online discussions to support the process of exchange in the EU project community.

After the first two webinars, one presenting the PACE platform and its functionalities and a second online event on writing EU project proposals, a third webinar "Dissemination in ERASMUS+ proposals" was organised in collaboration with dieBerater® on 5 March 2015.

Participants discussed the challenges of including dissemination activities in E+ proposals and possible strategies to move around these obstacles. Given the strong interest in the topic, the discussion will continue on the PACE platform, so you are still in time to get useful insights and share your doubts!

The recordings of the webinars will be available on the PACE platform. Do not miss them: register and use these materials!

Save the date for the next PACE webinar!

The next PACE webinar will take place on 7 May at 11:00 am Central European Time. The topic will be "Evaluation tools and strategies".

To register please send an email to m.satke@dieberater.com by Thursday, 30 April 2015 at the latest, with your name, the name of your organisation (if applicable) and your contact details. We will get back to you with more information on how to join the webinar.

PACE plans to hold more webinars in the coming months and organise online discussions on the platform around the webinars' topics, for people interested in discussing them further. So we invite you to keep following the activities on the platform to stay updated!
